2011 Made In Alaska Workshops

This year's FREE workshops will be held in 5 communities each from 2PM until about 8PM. This year we will have workshops in the following communities:

Wasilla – Wednesday, February 9th in the Best Western Lake Lucille Inn.

Talkeetna – Thursday, February 10th in the Talkeetna Lodge.

Petersburg – Tuesday, February 14th in the Tides Inn.

Juneau – Thursday, February 16th in Southeast Conference Board Room, 612 W. Willoughby Ave.

Anchorage – Wednesday, February 23rd in the BP Energy Center, 900 E. Benson Blvd.

Reservations for the FREE workshops may be made by calling 272-5634 or email info@anchoragemarkets.com. Workshops are open to the public.

Following is the workshop agenda:

2PM -- Made In Alaska Overview and Any Guest Speakers
This section covers details of the Made In Alaska Program and any changes we have made for the new year. We will also use this time for brief presentations by other business support organizations who wish to speak, i.e. SBDC, Buy Alaska, Chamber, etc. Dana Reese will lead this hour.

2:45PM – Expanding Your Sales Area

A survey we conducted about two years ago indicated that the biggest impediment to business growth of our permit holders was opportunities to sell their product. They had saturated their local marketing area and were still in need of expansion. We will discuss several ways to expand your sales area along with the related responsibilities, costs, hazards and opportunities. Bill Webb and Dana Reese will speak and monitor this hour.

3:30PM – Social Media & Internet Update

Twitter and Facebook have become everyday language throughout much of the world. The unique feature of using a multi-country media to reach targeted local audiences is amazing and is improving and growing every day. Meanwhile, other services appear that offer promises of even more. Olya Semiryazhko will lead this hour and relate our experiences to you. Bring your curiosity and your questions. A lot of the new social media is FREE...right price, eh?

Short meal break

5PM – Town Hall Meeting

Because we deal with over 1,000 small Alaska businesses government and private enterprise officials often ask us what is going on in the Alaska small business community and what do our small businesses need to grow and prosper. Also, our experiences with workshops over the last decade have shown that just meeting and talking with each other often brings out problems as well as resolutions. This hour will simply be a discussion about how everyone is doing business wise. What hurts; what helps? Bill Webb will lead the discussing buy the permit holders should dominate the hour...more if needed. The staff will keep notes and pass any recommendations along to the proper people for consideration.

6PM – Digital Photography

Each permit holder should bring one or more items to the workshop to be photographed as well as your own digital camera (and operator's manual) to enable us to get a good photo of your product for our website and your marketing use. Olya Semiryazhko and Dana Reese will conduct this hour starting with a discussion of how to take good photos that is then followed by a hands-on work session when you and our staff take photos of your product. We will take our shots of your product back to Anchorage and "clean them up" in Adobe Photoshop and mail them to your on a CD for your use. We do ask that you limit your products to two or three at the most and they be stickered with the Made In Alaska logo. We have purchased a new camera this year that will allow us to take short videos of moving objects should this fit your needs.

Made In Alaska Workshops are open to anyone and are free of charge. We do not photograph any products that are not certified and stickered Made In Alaska or Silver Hand products.

2011 Made In Alaska Webinars

Webinar -- Web conferencing is used to conduct live meetings, training, or presentations via the Internet. In a web conference, each participant sits at his or her own computer and is connected to other participants via the internet.

Alaska's vast distances and remoteness makes workshops time consuming and very expensive. While we like the closeness of a workshop and the ability to get to know the permit holders and their communities we have been restrained in presenting important information to all permit holders. The past two years we have very successfully used Webinars to successfully communicate in a cost efficient manner. This year we will present the following five Webinars on Wednesdays from 1PM to 2PM:

January 19 – AMBIT by Amanda Myers

Amanda will explain in detail this low cost internet site that is available to Alaska Businesses and give details as to how to get started and why.

January 26 – Color Forecast by Dana Reese

Recognizing current trends in colors can significantly increase our sales of consumer as well as industrial products. Dana is researching how to find out what's in...and what's out...color wise each year. We hope to make this an annual January Webinar.

February 2 – What's New in Marketing by Olya Semiryazhko

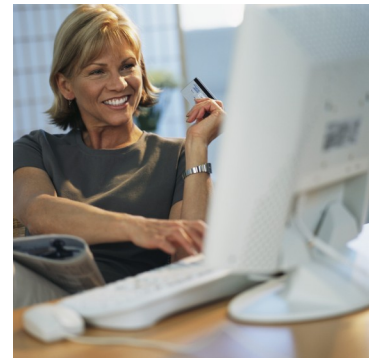

Olya will detail the new marketing media and methods that are currently helping to sell products. From new social media to gorilla marketing it should be interesting to hear what works and why.

March 2 – Creating a Print Ad Campaign by TBD

We have invited the Anchorage Daily News to provide an experience speaker to suggest how an effective sales campaign can be conducted on a tight budget using small ads.

March 16 – Insurances and Licenses You May Need by Bill Webb

We are often asked "what do I need" and Bill will make every attempt to not only tell you what you need by where to find it and how much it will costs.

Reservations for the FREE webinars may be made by calling 272-5634 or email info@anchoragemarkets.com. Webinars are open to the public.

2010 Made in Alaska Manufacturer of the Year

2009 Manufacturer of the Year
Insulfoam
Commissioner Emil Notti,
Department of Commerce,
Community and Economic Development, and Daryl Sobek,
General Manager of Insulfoam.

Every year since 1991 one outstanding Made In Alaska permit holder was nominated and selected to receive the prestigious award of Manufacturer of the year. Past recipients of the Manufacturer of the Year award were selected based on the company's time in business, community involvement, product originality, employment practices/job creation, and the challenges met.

We currently have only 5 nominations for the Made In Alaska Manufacturer of Year 2010 award, and we would welcome more! Anyone may nominate a current Made In Alaska permit holder and self nominations are very much in order and welcomed. Nominations are to be made by letter, email or fax to our office. Deadline for all nominations is 4:00PM, January 15, 2011.

Please provide as much supporting information as possible as to why you think the business you're nominating should win. Photos are very helpful.
